THE political situation in New York m much more favorable to Republican success than it was in 1872. There seemed far more probability that Greeley would carry the State than that Tilden will. Then, many Republicans supported Greeley and thousands voted for hun. Now, all the Liberal papers and speakers oppose Tilden, and many leading Democrats desire his defeat. All the signs indicate that he is depending on a stupendous system of fraud to carry the State, but we still have too much faith in the political wirtue of the people to believe that he will succeed.

THE Rochester Democrat believes New York is the battle-ground, and it is perfectly satisfied with the work going on in the Western part of the State. It says that section is alive with our camp fires. Every hamlet is having Republican meetings, and the larger cities are scenes of immense gatherings of the people to hear the issues of the day discussed. Never were Republican meetings better attended than they are now. Never did Republican speakers more earnestly and candidly present their convictions to receptive audiences. All this is ex-ocedingly hopeful. Never has the State of New York been lost to the Republican party when it has arranged for a vigorous campaign and sent its champions into the field. The Republican party always gains by debating its principles. It loses in a still hant, :a which the enemy delights.
